FIBA PRESIDENT AND SECRETARY GENERAL WELCOME

Dear Friends,

On behalf of FIBA, it is our pleasure to welcome you to Bourges, France for the FIBA Women's Olympic Qualifying Tournament 2020.

The four Olympic qualifying tournaments, which are being played across Europe and Asia, provide each of the 16 teams playing the final chance to seal their place in the prestigious Women's Olympic Basketball Tournament in July this year, with the top three teams from each tournament qualifying for the Tokyo 2020 Olympic Games.

The FIBA Women's Olympic Qualifying Tournaments always provide high-level competition and over the next four days we will be witness to exciting, memorable basketball.

A significant change we have seen since the previous Olympic Games in Rio is the introduction of FIBA's New Competition System for the women's game. The FIBA Women's Olympic Qualifying Tournaments are part of this new system that commenced in November 2019 with the FIBA Women's Olympic Pre-Qualifying Tournaments held in the FIBA regions of Africa, the Americas and Asia-Oceania. This system has been created to provide clearer pathways to all of FIBA's main women's events and increase the number of international games played over the next four-year cycle.

We are excited to have these tournaments across multiple cities this year as stand-alone events for the first time.

Our sincere thanks go to the four hosts of these tournaments, the National Federations of Belgium, China, France and Serbia for their dedication and commitment in ensuring that this year's FIBA Women's Olympic Qualifying Tournaments will be of the highest quality.

Enjoy the action.

Hamane Niang

one of the 3 tickets for Tokyo.

OLYMPIC QUALIFICATION

EVENT TIMELINE

With regular and competitive tournaments scheduled throughout the year as part of the new Women's National Team Competition System started in 2019, qualification for the Olympic Games tipped off in November 2019.

National teams participated in FIBA Women's Olympic Pre-Qualifying Tournaments in three regions – Africa, Americas, Asia (including Oceania) – to qualify for the FIBA Olympic Qualifying Tournaments 2020, taking place in February.

The national teams of Mozambique and Nigeria claimed the two spots reserved for Africa, the Americas tournaments saw Brazil, Canada, Puerto Rico and the United States advance, while Australia, China, Japan and Korea progressed from Asia-Oceania.

In Europe, six teams secured FIBA Olympic Qualifying Tournaments berths directly via their FIBA Women's EuroBasket 2019 results with the six top-ranked teams confirming their spots.

These teams are Spain, France, Serbia, Great Britain, Sweden and Belgium.

The 16 teams participating in the FIBA Women's Olympic Qualifying Tournaments were split into four groups of four teams, with the top three teams from each group set to advance to Tokyo 2020 Women's Olympic Basketball Tournament.

Both the USA, current gold medalists, and Japan, the hosts, will play in the qualification tournaments but are guaranteed Tokyo 2020 berth regardless of their results.

WOMEN'S OLYMPIC QUALIFYING TOURNAMENTS HISTORY

The FIBA Women's Olympic Qualifying Tournaments 2020 will be the fourth edition of the qualifiers for the Olympic Games organised by FIBA.

In 2016, the FIBA Women's Olympic Qualifying Tournament in Nantes (France) was played in a format which qualified five teams to Rio: France, Turkey, China, Spain and Belarus. Like in 2012 (Ankara) and 2008 (Madrid), 12 teams battled for the 5 remaining Olympic spots available.

In 2012, Turkey, Czech Republic, Croatia, Canada and France clinched the five berths for the London Games. The French went on a tremendous run in the British capital, getting all the way to the Final and finishing with a silver medal.

In 2008, Belarus, Latvia, Czech Republic, Brazil and Spain were the ones who punched their tickets for the Beijing Games. The Spaniards, Belarusians and Czechs all went on to reach the Quarter-Finals in China.

For the first time, the process in 2020 will see 16 teams competing in four locations (Belgrade-Serbia, Bourges-France, Ostend-Belgium, Foshan-China) to try and make it to the Tokyo Games. Of those nations competing, only Japan are guaranteed to qualify as the Olympic hosts, plus USA as the FIBA Women's Basketball World Cup 2019 Champions.

*The Unified Team was the name used for the sports team of the former Soviet Union (except the Baltic states) at the 1992 Winter Olympics in Albertville and the 1992 Summer Olympics in Barcelona. The IOC country code was EUN, after the French name, Équipe unifiée. The Unified Team was sometimes informally called the CIS Team (Commonwealth of Independent States, as a counterpart of CIS national football team taking part in Euro 1992 of the same year), although Georgia did not join the CIS until 1993.
